

EVANGELIZING BREATHTHT.
Brethren, hark to words of peace.
[Captain, load the Gatling gun]
Bloody strife and fighting cease,
[Fill the shells with No. 1]
Let your hearts be free from sin
[Sheriff, kindly watch the crowd]
Better lives at once begin.
[Bowling knives are not allowed]
Love your neighbors, brethren dear.
[Who's that man behind the tree?]
Flee whenever temptation's near [Keep your trigger finger free]
Bad companions always shun,
[Sergeant, post the pickets, please]
Soon your crown of glory won.
[Hold your rifle on your knees]
Glory, glory, brethren, shout,
[Captain, keep the troops at hand]
Hallelujahs, all sing out,
[Use the latest smokeless brand]
Now another glad "Amen!"
[Sheriff, sound the riot call!]
Peace on earth, good will to men.
[Never hit me, after all].

REPUBLICAN COUNTY CONVENTION.

In accordance with the foregoing, the Republicans of Mason county will meet in Mass Convention at the Courthouse in Maysville on Saturday afternoon, July 11th, at 2 o'clock, to select Delegates to the State Convention at Louisville.

WILLIAM D. COCHRAN, Chairman.

THE Jett-White trial at Jackson appears to have been a jet black affair.

THE latest is a "Necktie Trust." If CURT JETT and Judge HARGIS would only get into it!

THE man who encourages mob law is the greatest enemy of the community in which he lives.

KENTUCKIANS might very profitably use some "Foreign Missionary" endeavor in Breathitt county.

SERBIA and Belgrade are the Breathitt county and Jackson of Europe, with their own Hargisovitch and Redwinski.

THE Republicans of this Judicial District will convene at Vanceburg August 26th to nominate candidates for Circuit Judge and Commonwealth's Attorney.

PERHAPS the most accomplished liar that visited Maysville during the recent "military invasion" was one TAYLOR, who saw things and said things that no one else saw or said. He was, of course, a hireling of the ever-sensational Cincinnati Post.

Republican Candidate for Governor!

HON. AUGUSTUS E. WILLSON.

Augustus E. Willson of Louisville, who has announced his candidacy for Governor, was born at Maysville October 13th, 1846, and soon afterward his family moved to Covington, and in 1862 to New Albany, Ind., where his parents died.

At their death Mr. Willson was sent East to school and graduated at Harvard College in the class of 1869.

His father, Hiram Willson, was born in Windsor, Vt. He was a lumberman and mill owner in Western New York and in his early manhood a Jackson Democrat until he moved to Maysville, about 1845, where his observation of the effects of slave labor upon free labor caused him to leave the Democratic party, and he became one of the earliest adherents of the Republican party. While living in New Albany, Ind., he voted for Fremont in 1856. He and his wife were teachers in the common schools in their youth, and he was a County School Superintendent, and after he moved to New Albany was School Trustee there until his death, although the city had an overwhelming Democratic majority.

He had an important lumber business in New Albany, and at the time of his death had organized a new and larger business in Cincinnati. His oldest son, Forcythe Willson, was the author of "The Old Sergeant" and other poems, published by Ticknor & Fields, and was a valued friend of Emerson, Longfellow, Holmes and other literary men. "The Old Sergeant" was published as the carriers' address of The Louisville Journal in 1863.

Upon graduating from College and after a term in the Harvard Law School and a year in a Boston law office Augustus E. Willson entered the law office of Harlan & Newman and was admitted to the Bar in Louisville in the fall of 1870, and has ever since that time been an active working lawyer, and in the same office.

Mr. Willson was one of the Kentucky lawyers strongly indorsed for the United States Circuit Court of Appeals Bench at the time of the appointment of Judge Richards. He has been active in public matters at some sacrifice of his business interests. His races for Congress were in a District overwhelmingly Democratic, but in which he had a part in the organization which resulted in the district finally giving 11,000 majority for McKinley which has since been cut down until Louisville recently has been giving large Democratic majorities.

His business interests compelled Mr. Willson to withdraw from politics after the campaign of 1895, since which time he has had no connection with public matters, except to give such time as he could to National and state campaigns.

His announcement of his candidacy for Governor was made upon request of Republicans through the state, and the announcement is fair notice to the Democratic party that there will be a genuine battle by Republicans to win Kentucky.

Now will you be good?

COMPARING the trials of the so-called Goebel conspirators before Judge CANTRILL and the trials of JETT and WHITE before Judge REDWINE, The Louisville Herald forcefully says—

"No good citizen wants to see assassination prosecuted before a Cantrill under the partisan cry of 'Hang TAYLOR and damn the Republican party!' or before a Redwine or Osborne under the cry of 'Hang HARGIS and damn the Democratic party!' They want the law executed with stern impartiality and the guilty men hung, let it damn any party management or political machine that may be implicated. The cry of Justice is to 'Hang the guilty and save the state from dishonor and disgrace!'"

"It is unnecessary to recall the steps by which the Goebel assassination cases have been prosecuted through the Courts of the Fourteenth District with a purpose lenient as to the actual assassin, if he only would implicate men high in Republican politics. These prosecutions were carried on with the aid of Democratic Grand and Petit Juries, with a vast fund to reward witnesses who might be procured to offer any available testimony. Lawyers and witnesses for the defense were intimidated, browbeaten and shorn of their rights, while political passion in the prosecution ran roughshod over all opposition. Every effort was made to drag in information that would seem to locate political influences behind the accused. CALEB POWERS and ex-Governor TAYLOR, both men of untarnished reputations before the assassination of Mr. GOEBEL, have been pursued relentlessly because of the political advantage that might accrue.

"In the Breathitt county cases conditions are reversed. CURT JETT, the 'Wild Dog' of that locality, and TOM WHITE, almost of equally bad reputation, are accused of the assassination of MARCUM, a Republican. The accused are Democrats. There is no concealment of the fact that these two men are supposed to have been the hired tools in the hands of men high in Democratic politics and public office. The assassination of MARCUM was coldly planned in a business way—not in the heat of excitement; but when the victim had been lulled into false security he was shot down at the Courthouse door. The assassin was actually identified by Captain B. J. EVEN, one of the most highly esteemed citizens of the county, who saw CURT JETT fire the shot. Mr. GOEBEL was shot at the Statehouse door during a period of unsurpassed excitement and tension, and nobody actually saw the man who fired the shot. The case as to MARCUM was much simpler than as to GOEBEL. Yet the assassin of MARCUM is not convicted. Convictions grow on trees for men under suspicion of assassinating GOEBEL, in spite of law and in spite of evidence.

"In one case the Democratic Machine is in the official saddle seeking to 'Hang TAYLOR and damn the Republican party!'"

"In the other case the Democratic Machine is in the official saddle seeking to hide the facts and save the Democratic party."

"The record is a blot of dishonor upon the civilization of Kentucky calling on the good men of both parties to wipe out for the good of the state."

of the effects of slave labor upon free labor caused him to leave the Democratic party, and he became one of the earliest adherents of the Republican party. While living in New Albany, Ind., he voted for Fremont in 1856. He and his wife were teachers in the common schools in their youth, and he was a County School Superintendent, and after he moved to New Albany was School Trustee there until his death, although the city had an overwhelming Democratic majority.

He had an important lumber business in New Albany, and at the time of his death had organized a new and larger business in Cincinnati. His oldest son, Forcythe Willson, was the author of "The Old Sergeant" and other poems, published by Ticknor & Fields, and was a valued friend of Emerson, Longfellow, Holmes and other literary men. "The Old Sergeant" was published as the carriers' address of The Louisville Journal in 1863.

Upon graduating from College and after a term in the Harvard Law School and a year in a Boston law office Augustus E. Willson entered the law office of Harlan & Newman and was admitted to the Bar in Louisville in the fall of 1870, and has ever since that time been an active working lawyer, and in the same office.

Mr. Willson was one of the Kentucky lawyers strongly indorsed for the United States Circuit Court of Appeals Bench at the time of the appointment of Judge Richards. He has been active in public matters at some sacrifice of his business interests. His races for Congress were in a District overwhelmingly Democratic, but in which he had a part in the organization which resulted in the district finally giving 11,000 majority for McKinley which has since been cut down until Louisville recently has been giving large Democratic majorities.

His business interests compelled Mr. Willson to withdraw from politics after the campaign of 1895, since which time he has had no connection with public matters, except to give such time as he could to National and state campaigns.

His announcement of his candidacy for Governor was made upon request of Republicans through the state, and the announcement is fair notice to the Democratic party that there will be a genuine battle by Republicans to win Kentucky.

Now will you be good?

COMPARING the trials of the so-called Goebel conspirators before Judge CANTRILL and the trials of JETT and WHITE before Judge REDWINE, The Louisville Herald forcefully says—

"No good citizen wants to see assassination prosecuted before a Cantrill under the partisan cry of 'Hang TAYLOR and damn the Republican party!' or before a Redwine or Osborne under the cry of 'Hang HARGIS and damn the Democratic party!' They want the law executed with stern impartiality and the guilty men hung, let it damn any party management or political machine that may be implicated. The cry of Justice is to 'Hang the guilty and save the state from dishonor and disgrace!'"

"It is unnecessary to recall the steps by which the Goebel assassination cases have been prosecuted through the Courts of the Fourteenth District with a purpose lenient as to the actual assassin, if he only would implicate men high in Republican politics. These prosecutions were carried on with the aid of Democratic Grand and Petit Juries, with a vast fund to reward witnesses who might be procured to offer any available testimony. Lawyers and witnesses for the defense were intimidated, browbeaten and shorn of their rights, while political passion in the prosecution ran roughshod over all opposition. Every effort was made to drag in information that would seem to locate political influences behind the accused. CALEB POWERS and ex-Governor TAYLOR, both men of untarnished reputations before the assassination of Mr. GOEBEL, have been pursued relentlessly because of the political advantage that might accrue.

"In the Breathitt county cases conditions are reversed. CURT JETT, the 'Wild Dog' of that locality, and TOM WHITE, almost of equally bad reputation, are accused of the assassination of MARCUM, a Republican. The accused are Democrats. There is no concealment of the fact that these two men are supposed to have been the hired tools in the hands of men high in Democratic politics and public office. The assassination of MARCUM was coldly planned in a business way—not in the heat of excitement; but when the victim had been lulled into false security he was shot down at the Courthouse door. The assassin was actually identified by Captain B. J. EVEN, one of the most highly esteemed citizens of the county, who saw CURT JETT fire the shot. Mr. GOEBEL was shot at the Statehouse door during a period of unsurpassed excitement and tension, and nobody actually saw the man who fired the shot. The case as to MARCUM was much simpler than as to GOEBEL. Yet the assassin of MARCUM is not convicted. Convictions grow on trees for men under suspicion of assassinating GOEBEL, in spite of law and in spite of evidence.

"In one case the Democratic Machine is in the official saddle seeking to 'Hang TAYLOR and damn the Republican party!'"

"In the other case the Democratic Machine is in the official saddle seeking to hide the facts and save the Democratic party."

"The record is a blot of dishonor upon the civilization of Kentucky calling on the good men of both parties to wipe out for the good of the state."

Minnie needs no experts. A lifetime experience has enabled her builders to so simplify and perfect the Minnie that experts are useless. Any farmer can run Minnie. 'Tis absurd for the farmer to do a manufacturer's experimenting, yet it is done in many cases. Not so with Minnie. Minnie was experimented with before we were born. Year by year her builders have simplified and perfected Minnie until today she stands before the American farmer PERFECT!

LOVELY MINNIE IN ALL HER RADIANT AND GLORIOUS BEAUTY GREETES YOU TODAY as the result of a lifetime's labors. Her sires are on the shady side of life. For them the sun is rapidly setting; a very few years and they will go hence; but they have left in your hands a gift that will ever keep their memory green. A grateful public will always thank them for beautiful and charming Minnie.

Read What These Good Citizens Say

RIPLEY, OHIO, June 25, 1903.

To Whom It May Concern: We, the undersigned, today have finished cutting our crop of wheat of 60 acres without any expert. We say the Minnie Binder is a success, and it will do everything that it is recommended to do. It binds every bundle and is non-chokable. We have been farmers all of our lives, and have had experience with every make of machine. We stand "pat" to say it is the best binder built, no exceptions. It is absolutely the lightest draft machine we have ever seen in our life time experience. The large master wheel accounts for that. It goes through more down grain, cuts a smoother stubble than any machine we have ever seen. The raising and lowering of the machine at both ends at the same time accounts for it. The machine is always level, and the raising and lowering of the binder can be done with a lever from the seat. It makes it so convenient to raise your binder without getting off your seat. We also have had the Minnie on steep land with grain wheel down hill. It gives good satisfaction and has never given us any trouble.

Gentlemen, we feel it our duty to say to the Minnie Harvester Co. that a better machine is not made. We also say to our farmer friends if you are in need of binder, look the Minnie over before buying and learn the value of a dollar. If you buy a Minnie, it will be the best day's work you ever done. We are all lifting our hats to the Minnie. We wish the Minnie Harvester Co. success in her future business as an anti-trust machine. Hurrah for the Minnie!

She is our Minnie,
And we are her Joe,
She is not a Trust Binder,
We will let you know.

His Last Hope Realized.
From The Sentinel, Gebo, Montana.

In the first opening of Oklahoma to settlers in 1889 the Editor of this paper was among the many seekers after fortune who made the big race one fine day in April. During his traveling about and afterwards his camping upon his claim he encountered much bad water, which, together with the severe heat, gave him a very severe diarrhoea, which it seemed almost impossible to check, and along in June the case became so bad he expected to die. One day one of his neighbors brought him one small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy as a last hope. A big dose was given him while he was rolling about on the ground in great agony, and in a few minutes the dose was repeated. The good effect of the medicine was soon noticed and within an hour the patient was taking his first sound sleep for a fortnight. That one little bottle worked a complete cure and he cannot help but feel grateful. The season for bowel disorders being at hand suggests this item. For sale by Jas. J. Wood & Son, Druggists.

The Trying Time

In a young girl's life is reached when Nature leads her uncertain steps across the line which divides girlhood from womanhood. Ignorance and neglect at this critical period are largely responsible for much of the after misery of womanhood. Not only does Nature often need help in the regular establishment of the womanly function, but there is almost always need of some safe, strengthening tonic, to overcome the languor, nervousness and weakness, commonly experienced at this time.

If there is an invalid woman, suffering from female weakness, prostration, or falling of womb, or from leucorrhoea, who has used Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription without complete success, Dr. Pierce would like to hear from such person—and it will be to her advantage to write as he offers in perfect good faith, a reward of $500 for any case of the above maladies which he cannot cure.

"I wish to tell you the benefit we have received from using your remedies," writes Mrs. Dan Hall, of Broadhead, Green Co., Wis. "Two years ago my daughter's health began to fail. Everything that could be thought of was done to help her but it was of no use. When she began to complain she was quite stout; weighed 170, the picture of good health, until about the age of fourteen, then in six months she was so run down her weight was but 120. She kept failing and I gave up, thinking there was no use, she must die. Friends all said, 'You will lose your daughter.' I said I fear I shall. I must say, doctor, that only for your 'Favorite Prescription' my daughter would have been in her grave to-day. When she had taken one-half bottle the natural function was established and we bought another one, making only two bottles in all, and she completely recovered. Since then she is as well as can be."

The Alice Brown, Joseph B. Williams, J. B. Finley, Oakland, Harry Brown and Defender, a battery of big Southern river boats, each with big tows, will go through to New Orleans if there is water.

It doesn't make any difference how many railroads you build, how many trains you run or how fast they go, if you will build and run the right kind of steamboats, the masses of the people will ride on them. No one wants to ride on an old hearse when they can get an automobile to sit in. Build the right kind of boats and they'll get patronage.

The Memphis News says: "Government records in the possession of local Forecast Official Emery show that since the Government began taking notice of the river, back in '72, only two rises of as great consequence as the one of the present month have occurred during the month of June. Rises in the month of June are a yearly occurrence, but only twice in the known history of the river has the water reached the danger line during the balmy month of June until the present year. The years of the two other great rises were 1892-93."
